Essential Elements of Successful Research
Monday, September 30, 2013: 8:30 AM-5:30 PM

Essential Elements of Successful Research is a full-day program designed for all members of an institution's human research protections program. The goal is to provide investigators, research staff, institutional review board (IRB) members and staff, institutional officials, and others with the practical knowledge they need to ensure high-quality clinical trials in compliance with federal regulations at their institution. Topics will include designing and running safe, ethical, and effective studies; the informed consent process; conflicts of interest; documentation requirements; effective communication among components of a human research protection program (HRPP), including between research staff and the IRB; and other key elements for creating and maintaining a strong HRPP.

Essentials of IACUC Administration
Tuesday, October 1, 2013: 8:00 AM-5:00 PM
Wednesday, October 2, 2013: 8:00 AM-12:30 PM

Essentials of IACUC Administration is a 1.5-day course that provides IACUC administrators and support staff, as well as training and compliance personnel, with an overview of how to effectively manage an animal care and use program. This course will review the key components of an integrated program, examine the primary responsibilities of administrators, and discuss strategies for creating and maintaining a culture of compliance that assures the humane care and use of animals while facilitating their use in research and teaching.

Did you know…?

IRB Net is the only means of submission of IRB / HRPP related paperwork at CUNY CUNY HRPP Offices and the UI-IRB no longer utilizes IRB Manager nor do they accept paper submissions.

The Latest CUNY HRPP Updates

The Office for the Protection of Research Subjects at CSI welcomes your feedback and suggestions. We invite you to share any constructive comments you may have regarding our policies and processes.

We also encourage anyone with concerns about non-compliance with federal or State regulations or University policy to report those concerns to the Office for the Protection of Research Subjects at CSI, the University Director for Research Compliance, or to CSI’s Research Integrity Officer. All information is treated confidentially.

Reports regarding potential compliance violations are taken seriously and will be thoroughly investigated. Please know, however, that it is not always possible to disclose the outcome of specific investigated complaints.

Happy Spring!
